

CORRUGATED

Abaca for Enstra mill in South Africa

Written by Daniel Brunton

Published
4 Nov 2015

Topics
Corrugated

Stay on top of the latest and greatest

First mill project in RSA

When the leading South African independent group Corruseal purchased the Enstra paper mill from Sappi, they asked Abaca Systems to modify its Packaging3000 system to accommodate paper reel manufacturing. Graham Dickinson, Sales Director of Abaca picks up the story.

"Having worked with Corruseal for over 15 years now, we were delighted to be approached by them to help streamline the paper mill operation. We were able to modify and develop our system for them and given the short deadline for the mill takeover, we had three of our team at the mill carrying out the install."

He continues,

"I'm pleased to report that we replaced the existing SAP system with our Packaging 3000 at the end of October over a weekend and the first Corruseal deliveries rolled out of the mill using our system within 48 hours. It went really smoothly."

Rajiv Mehta, Joint CEO of Corruseal Group, comments,

"We have been really pleased with the implementation of the system at the mill. This is our latest acquisition and this is the first such system roll-out at a paper mill in South Africa for Abaca. We are proud to be partnered with them, as they have been with us right from the beginning. Having started out as a single sheet plant, they have taken every step with us as we have grown to a completely integrated group of companies."

www.abaca.co.uk

Enjoyed this article? Sign up to receive news and updates like it.

Sign Me Up

Daniel Brunton
Publisher

Inspiration, innovation, information.

Sign up to receive updates on our news and events

Sign Up